BARNARD'S

What to Expect

- A member of the Neurodiversity Hub team will be available to welcome you.
- If a Navigator is available, they will offer you a private one-to-one conversation.
- If all Navigators are currently supporting other families, you can make yourself comfortable in a waiting area and will be seen as soon as possible.
- You can ask questions, discuss concerns, and receive tailored information, advice and signposting.
- A hot drink will be available.
- No appointment is needed.

Good to Know

- Children are welcome to attend with you.
- Parents and carers remain responsible for supervising their children throughout the session.
- We are happy to provide general information and advice about neurodiversity. However, if you would like to discuss the personal circumstances of a young person aged 16 or over, we will need their consent before doing so.
